The description of the Yugoslav factory is new, the Outpost Arsenal M92 parts kit 762 X 39 semi-automatic. The M92 design entered production in the mid-1980s and was designed for close battle quarters and compact design. This brand spanking NEW Virgin kits have never been collected there are no numbers on the parts. The kits are under folding stock for compact concealment and all Yugoslav developed improvements for additional durable maintenance. Beautiful wooden front-hand guards can be finished in any color stains to enhance the desired end product. The kit will require drilling, installation, riveting and final assembly. You will need a receiver, barrel and rivets not included. Please note: Due to the huge differences in the production of specifications and tolerances of surplus Warsaw Pact-style AK rifle kits, we cannot guarantee any particular piece of size (e.g. trunnions, etc.) with these kits. These kits are demilitarized from actual working weapons and can show demilled markings. Details can range from kit to kit (including the size of the trunnion). Kits may also require additional installation (e.g. knurling, over-sized pin installation, minor welding, etc.) to complete the assembly. We cannot guarantee the fit of any parts because of the inherent variables associated with the AK format. The kits should be assembled by an experienced builder with knowledge of the Kalashnikov line and construction practice.
